

Mason CLC Art Project

Students from Mason CLC in Akron delivered a special watercolor to Probate Court. The students and their teacher Anne Lackney were commissioned by Judge Stormer to create the large-scale work to hang in her court room. The colorful project was then signed by the students when they came for a visit to downtown Akron and the historic Summit County Courthouse. They were excited to see where the painting would be hanging. Some were nervous to be in the space so Turning-point Tank, a therapy dog from the Summit County Adult Probation Department and Turning-Point Court, came to ease any of their nervousness and see the work for himself.

Learn more about the project from this Akron Schools Video. Click here.

Or, this story from The Akron Beacon Journal. Click here.

